Tony,

Per Ann Shirley, Special
Asst to Senator Kassebaum, the Senator prefers to have the introduction brief and not "flowery". If she knows the introducer it may be personalized. (She is a friend of Judge Webster)

Hope this helps -

Thanks

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence
THRU: Deputy Director for Administration
Director of Personnel
FROM: Robert E. Fitzgerald
Director of Equal Employment Opportunity
SUBJECT: Symposium on Women's Issues - 14 October 1987

1. Action Requested:

a. Request that you sign the attached letter which formally invites The Honorable Nancy L. Kassebaum, United States Senator to be the keynote speaker for the upcoming CIA symposium on women's issues (Tab A). The OEE0 has scheduled the program in the Headquarters Auditorium to begin at 0900 hours, 14 October 1987.

b. Request you meet with Senator Kassebaum in your office at 0845 on the morning of 14 October 1987, escort her to the auditorium at 0855 and say a few words of introduction to kick off this occasion.

2. Background:

a. The OEE0 has been in touch with Ms. Ann Shirley, Staff Assistant to Senator Kassebaum, who encouraged us to extend the invitation and feels the Senator will give a quick affirmative response.

b. The proposed conference is intended to help Agency professional, technical and clerical women focus more clearly on their career choices. The agenda will reflect the changing role of women in today's society, the obstacles they face in the work place and, for many, the challenge of balancing responsibilities at work with their jobs as homemakers. The conference will also address the issues women face in their working relationships with their male counterparts, and examine barriers that block women's selection for executive positions. This one day conference would be open to all Agency personnel, but would be geared towards the interests of female employees. We expect 300 to 500 employees to attend. The proposed agenda is attached (Tab B).

3. Recommendations:

a. That you sign the attached letter inviting Senator Kassebaum to be keynote speaker for this occasion (Tab A).

b. That you agree to kick off the symposium with a short message to those employees attending and that you introduce Senator Kassebaum. A suggested text is being prepared for you by the Office of Public Affairs. The symposium will continue for the entire day, and we would be pleased to have you stay as long as your schedule permits.

c. The following material has been attached for your information:
(Tab B)

- A brief biographic sketch on the career of Senator Kassebaum
- An agenda for the day's activities.

Robert E. Fitzgerald

The Honorable Nancy Kassebaum
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Kassebaum,

The Central Intelligence Agency is planning a one day symposium on women's issues to be held on 14 October 1987 in our Headquarters Building Auditorium at Langley, Virginia. I would like to extend this formal invitation to you to be the "Keynote" speaker for this occasion. I know yours is a very busy schedule but we would be honored by your participation.

The symposium is intended to help Agency women employees focus more clearly on their career choices. The agenda will reflect the changing role of women in today's society, the obstacles they face in the work place and for many, the challenge of balancing responsibilities at work and in the home. We expect some 300 to 500 employees to attend.

The program will consist of the keynote address followed by presentations by guest speakers, discussion groups, and a panel of CIA executive level women. We would like you to speak 30 to 45 minutes beginning at 0915, followed by a short question and answer period. You are welcomed to stay for the full program if your schedule permits. The topic of your talk would be of your choice. Arrangements are being handled through our Women's Program Manager, [redacted] Office of Equal Employment Opportunity. She can be contacted at [redacted]

We hope you can join us.

Sincerely yours,

William H. Webster
Director of Central Intelligence
